OPERATION R & R

How We Began

Grant Evans had seen enough. On his frequent trips between his home in Columbus, Ohio and second home on Hilton Head Island, he saw plenty of soldiers at the Savannah airport. When he switched on his television at his home in Long Cove, he would see local news reports of troops deploying to Iraq or Afghanistan, or coming back from those spots into the arms of their loved ones.

“In the airport I caught myself staring, watching these guys and gals, the big hugs, the tears. I thought that it is absolutely unbelievable that these people are going over there and we’re just going on with our daily lives,” Grant recalled. Somehow he wanted to help.

“Operation R & R” was born when Evans, who owns short term rental property on the island, thought it would be a great idea to invite returning soldiers and their families to spend a week in the Lowcountry, accommodations compliments of the property owner, at a rental villa or home on Hilton Head. “It would be in the off season,” Evans said, “when the property sits empty anyway.”

Not knowing exactly how to get in touch with the military, he talked to some USO representatives at the Savannah airport. They directed him to Pastor Andy Smith, a Baptist minister in Richmond Hill, Georgia, whose church has “adopted” over 50 families from neighboring Ft. Stewart, the largest U.S. Army installation east of the Mississippi. Ft. Stewart is home of the third Infantry Division who were deployed to Iraq for the third time in 2007. Smith said he would supply the families.

Grant Evans also contacted the property management company he uses, Beach Properties. Owner Linda Moloney said, “We thought it was a great idea. I sent an email to our owners, introducing the idea, right before we left for Thanksgiving. The response was terrific.”

Evans, with his wife Mia, is organizing other partnerships on the island, working with restaurants, stores, and recreational facilities, to see if they would like to offer something special for the soldiers and their families.

Celebrate Hilton Head

We are now in Phase two of this worthy project. We anticipate being able to accommodate over 300 military families through May 2009.

If you would like more information on how to become a patron, please refer to back cover for details on how you can contribute through the Community Foundation of the Lowcountry (a 501c3).

We are excited to be able to provide you with this time for REST AND RELAXATION on Hilton Head Island.

Your stay here will be enhanced by the special offers that the supporting businesses are giving to you and your family. Please help make the program a success by adhering to the following guidelines:

- All offers apply to immediate family only.
- Show your ID card at each business in order to receive the discount.
- Take this directory with you to allow businesses to be “checked off “ as you enjoy their offer.
Each establishment should be visited only once during your stay unless you are prepared to pay the full value for your additional visits.
- Alcohol is not included in the discounted amount.
- Please be certain to show your appreciation to these businesses and their employees by basing your gratuity on the full amount of your bill.

Take time to ask to speak with the management of the businesses you visit. They would love to know you have enjoyed their services.

OPERATION R&R's Board of Directors wish you and your family a fabulous visit!

Contributions

How to become a patron

Operation R&R donations will be used to off-set the costs related to the soldiers' stay on Hilton Head. While the accommodations are generously being donated by the property owners, there are cleaning costs involved. We also have expenses related to gift bags, grocery cards, and operations. Our goal is to make this stay a minimal expense for our military families.

The Community Foundation of the Lowcountry is a 501c3. Please connect to their website (www.cf-lowcountry.org), select Donate Online, then choose Operation R&R from the drop down menu. Your donations are a great way to thank the men and women who are risking their lives for our security.

“In the airport I caught myself staring, watching these guys and gals, the big hugs, the tears. I thought that it is absolutely unbelievable that these people are going over there and we’re just going on with our daily lives,” Grant recalled.

Somehow he wanted to help.
